Public Service Foundation Organized

Organization of the new Frank Dixon Foundation for Honoring Public Service was announced recently by Earl McGowan, of Chapman, Alabama, chairman of the state-wide group.

This new foundation—an unincorporated association—will be dedicated to the purpose of honoring each year such public servants, either elected or appointed, who have performed conspicuous, valuable and courageous service in Alabama.

The new association will thus pay tribute to the memory of the late Frank M. Dixon, who died early in October at the age of 72. Dixon was governor of Alabama from 1939 to 1943 and, in the opinion of many residents of this state, one of the greatest public figures ever to serve in that capacity. He was notable especially for the introduction of sweeping reforms as the merit system and the pardon and parole boards.

A number of friends of Dixon have thus allied themselves in a state-wide organization for the purpose of preserving his memory and at the same time, of perpetuating his name as an advocate of strong and decent state government.

Officers of the association serving with Mr. McGowan will be Mrs. Dixon, as honorary chairman; Hugh Kaul, of Birmingham, vice-chairman; Hamner Cobbs, of Greensboro, secretary; S. W. Smyer, Sr., of Birmingham, as treasurer.

Also serving on the board of governors will be the following representatives from each of the eight congressional districts: First, R. B. Wilkins, of Mobile.

Second, Grover Hall, Jr., of Montgomery.

Third, L. Y. Deane, of Eufaula.

Fourth, Judge James Hare, of Selma.

Fifth, Robert Knox Greene, of Greensboro.

Sixth, James A. Simpson, of Birmingham.

Seventh, A. C. Michaels of Gadsden.

Eighth, Norman Harris of Decatur.

Post Office To Open Saturday

The Elba Post Office will be open all day Saturday, beginning January 8, according to Postmaster Robert Cooper.

All windows will be open and all services will be available including the sale of money orders which have not been sold on Saturday or some time.

City Council Meeting Held Monday Night New Street, Fire Chief & Cable TV Discussed

The Elba City Council held its first regular meeting of the new year Monday night and started off new year at a brisk pace.

The first order of business was to approve a proposal by the Elba City School Board requesting that a city street be cut on the new grammar school to the high school, striding lot. The street could run parallel to the lot end of Tiger Stadium.

The council issued a V. Cable franchise for the City of Elba to Decatur T. V. Cable Co. and were told present and when asked what help could be expected from the company, he stated that though it had not been discussed at length with the Commissioners, Court he felt sure that the county could be expected to cooperate with the company in the construction of this street, but that any purchase of dirt would have to be made by the City of Elba. Work will start immediately.

C. V. ANDERSON

Anderson To Speak To Cattlemen

C. V. Anderson, manager of research and development for Watkins Products of Winona, Minnesota, will be the principal speaker at the annual Coffee County Cattleman's Association meeting Thursday at 6 p.m. at the Enterprise Community Center. Meeting along with the cattlemen will be the Cowbells and the newly organized Junior Cattlemen.

Anderson will speak on Mineral and Vitamin Requirements to Properly Balance Livestock Ration. A native of North Carolina, he is in charge of his firm's laboratory research and development. He has traveled extensively in Africa doing research on animal nutrition and insect control.

Also on the program will be Mr. W. H. (Bill) Gregory, III, who will give a talk on the Alabama Coop. Feed Lot.

Another important activity of the evening will be the election of officers for the coming year. Carlton Larkins is program chairman.

An earth roast dinner is planned and all cattlemen are urged to bring a neighbor cattleman.

Elba Citizens Struck By Automobile

Emmit Ballard, of Elba, was struck by a car late Monday while crossing the street in downtown Elba.

According to the police report he was jay walking and after getting to the center of the street saw cars coming from both directions and in the confusion stepped in front of the one driven by Hugh Franklin Goodson, of New Brockton. He was knocked down and received numerous bruises but was not hit hard enough to cause his glasses to break.

No charges were filed in the accident.

Record Number Of Businesses Fail

NEW YORK — There were 15,501 business failures in the United States in 1964, according to the Insurance Information Institute. The average dollar loss per failure reached an all-time high of $98,454.

The payment came from Highway Department funds.

The Highway Department breakdown of the multi-million dollar program at providing as much as $297 million spent for construction contracts, $53.4 million for right-of-way purchase, $11.7 million for relocation of utilities, and $2.4 million for engineering and aerial surveys.

The remaining $63.7 million was spent for maintenance, to protect the construction investment.

"Statewide construction covered 3,916 miles of improvements and new construction—2,628 miles on the county system and ban and interstate routes," said Governor Wallace.

Interstate open to traffic has increased from 183 to 292 miles during the Wallace administration.

Improvements on primary and urban routes total 357 miles for the 3-year period. ## State Pays Claim In Murder Of Couple

One of the largest death claim payments in Alabama history has been awarded to the son of a slain Enterprise couple.

An escaped prisoner was convicted of the killings. Thaddeus Morgan was paid a total of $23,600 for the deaths of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Morgan, Secretary of State Agnes Baggett said Monday.

The secretary of state is one of four members of the State Board of Adjustment. She said the award was $11,800 for each victim.

Ben Mathis, a Negro prisoner who had escaped from a road gang, was convicted in the slayings and is awaiting execution at Kilby prison.

The payment came from Highway Department funds.

Methodists To Hold Meeting In Andalusia

Doctor John R. Brokhoff, Professor of Preaching, Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, will be the keynote speaker at the Methodist Great Day of Evangelism Rally to be held at First Methodist Church, Andalusia, 3:00 p.m. Sunday, January 9, according to the Reverend David W. Carter, pastor of the Elba Methodist Church.

Large delegations from the Friendship, Liberty, Ham, and Elba Methodist Churches will be in attendance. It is expected that several hundred members representing the 90 congregations in the district will be present.

Doctor Brokhoff is called on widely as a baptist, evangelist and religious leader throughout the South. He has served as moderator and panel member for Radio and Television programs for Youth and Ministers. He has had extensive experience as a writer of curriculum materials in Christian Education.

Special music for the Rally will be provided by a combined Adult Choir and a combined Youth Choir.

Aviation School Allotted Monies By Alabama

The Alabama Institute of Aviation Technology has just received an allotment of $6,750.00 from the State Department of Education to be used for work-study scholarships for full-time students at the Institute.

These funds are available now for persons under 21 years of age who otherwise qualify for enrollment in the 10 classes.

Other requirements for enrollment are: high school diploma; satisfactory completion of an aptitude test administered by a local State Employment Office; and the ability, both mentally and physically, to satisfactorily learn and pursue employment in aviation maintenance or technology pursuits.

In announcing these scholarships, Troy C. Phillips, Director, also pointed out that the Firm of Wald and Holmes, Dothan, has been appointed Architects by the State Building Authority, and has begun plans on the $500,000 expansion program for the Institution.

This State School is approved by the Federal Aviation Agency for Aircraft Mechanics Training; other courses offered are: Aviation Electronics, Aeronautical Drafting and Design Technology, Helicopter Maintenance Technology, and Turbine Engine Mechanics (Jet). Any person interested in training for a good position in aviation should make further inquiry at the Alabama Institute of Aviation Technology, P. O. Box 747, Ozark, or visit the school.

Auto Parking Ordinances To Be Enforced

In reviewing the past year, Chief B. Dunaway stated that the Elba Police Department had investigated 122 wrecks in 1965 and these accidents caused an estimated $27,902 damage to the vehicles alone.

Dunaway further stated that he had been asked by the management of Dorsey Trailers to review the parking ordinances in the vicinity of their plant and to please revise and rigidly enforce them and that this has been done. Signs are posted in each area and drivers are urged to read and obey because they will be enforced.

State Road Building Going At Record Pace

Governor George C. Wallace's three years in office have produced a record-breaking $430.2 million road program in Alabama. This includes the $5 million December contract letting.

Be Sure Your Diet Is Not A Health Hazard

The eat-and-drink-all-you-want low carbohydrate diets are an illusion, the Nutrition Foundation warns. In fact, the Foundation reports, carbohydrate in the diet is essential for normal utilization of body fat under any reducing plan, and an absence of carbohydrate can cause profound and menacing changes in the chemistry of the body. In the past year, many have gone on - or have been tempted to go on - a diet low in carbohydrate to lose weight. Low carbohydrate diets have been circulated under various names - the "Drinking Man's Diet," the Mayo Clinic Diet, the Air Force diet, etc.

The Mayo Clinic and the Air Force, incidentally, have disclaimed any interest in or sponsorship of a low carbohydrate diet. In an analysis of the hazards of the low carbohydrate diet, the Foundation states that the diet is not a health hazard, but it is a health hazard if it is not properly followed. The diet is not a health hazard if it is followed properly, but it is a health hazard if it is not followed properly. The diet is not a health hazard if it is followed properly, but it is a health hazard if it is not followed properly.

Many people in the United States desire to lose weight, and a person following a low carbohydrate diet will lose pounds initially - but this loss, Dr. Rivers pointed out, is due to loss of body water and not due to the loss of body fat. It is the true weight loss that the overweight person seeks, and the diet is not a health hazard if it is followed properly, but it is a health hazard if it is not followed properly.

Dr. Rivers states that energy-giving carbohydrates are a nutrient necessary for the digestion of fat. If the diet is deficient in carbohydrates, the body attempts to compensate for the lack of energy by breaking down fat and releasing the other components of meals.

The breakdown of fats for energy, in the absence of carbohydrate in the diet, leads to the accumulation in the blood of chemicals called ketones. This is a sign of a profound alteration of the body chemistry, the ultimate results of which are unknown. Further, if the body is forced, by lack of carbohydrate in the diet, to break down proteins in food for energy, an extra work load is placed on the kidneys. A low carbohydrate diet also causes the body to pour out sodium. This increases the output of urine and does in fact produce a temporary weight loss because the body loses fluid, but the long-range effects of this shift in the body chemistry caused by a lack of sodium also remain unknown. Dr. Rivers stated: "The use of diets extremely limited in carbohydrates should be left in the hands of the practicing physician."

In most cases, overweight is due to overeating or to lack of physical activity. It is a few impulsive acts of overeating, but rather a continued pattern of eating beyond the body's energy needs. The problem for the overweight, therefore, is to eat less, to eat living and food habits to achieve a safe and permanent weight loss. Adequate amounts of protein, fat and carbohydrate, as well as sufficient supplies of minerals and vitamins should be eaten every day. Cut down on the quantities if you need to lose weight, but do not skip essential nutrients.

Keep your diet in balance or get it in balance. Lose weight safely and permanently.

VERSATILE - The jump suit has replaced the homey housedress for obvious reasons. Comfortable and suited for the indoor-outdoor wear that Evelyn Pearson design is of which are unknown. Further, if the body is forced, by lack of carbohydrate in the diet, to break down proteins in food for energy, an extra work load is placed on the kidneys. A low carbohydrate diet also causes the body to pour out sodium. This increases the output of urine and does in fact produce a temporary weight loss because the body loses fluid, but the long-range effects of this shift in the body chemistry caused by a lack of sodium also remain unknown. Dr. Rivers stated: "The use of diets extremely limited in carbohydrates should be left in the hands of the practicing physician."

In most cases, overweight is due to overeating or to lack of physical activity. It is a few impulsive acts of overeating, but rather a continued pattern of eating beyond the body's energy needs. The problem for the overweight, therefore, is to eat less, to eat living and food habits to achieve a safe and permanent weight loss. Adequate amounts of protein, fat and carbohydrate, as well as sufficient supplies of minerals and vitamins should be eaten every day. Cut down on the quantities if you need to lose weight, but do not skip essential nutrients.

THAT BIG-GOVERNMENT HEADACHE

PUL-EEZE!
WE'D RATHER DO IT OURSELVES!

PLANS FOR FAST POWER DEVELOPMENT CREATING THOUSANDS OF JOBS

PRIVATE POWER COMPANY

BLOCKING JOB CREATION

Private industry has been urged by the Federal Government to help solve the economic problems of Appalachia. Yet, when a private company announces a multi-million dollar construction project that would create thousands of jobs and accelerate the progress of a wide area, what happens? A federal department tries to block the project.

The Duke Power Company filed an application last January with the Federal Power Commission for a vast steam and hydro-power complex in the western tip of South Carolina. Eventually it would cost $700 million, bring an estimated $18 million into state and local treasuries, and add some $24 million to federal tax revenues. The entire project would be financed by private funds; not one cent would be required of taxpayers.

Now the Department of the Interior has come forward with a petition to the FPC to compel Duke to purchase its future energy requirements from federal power projects. Where would the federal power come from? It would be generated at a proposed hydro plant to be built with nearly $100 million of the taxpayers' money at a site which would take 23,000 acres of land off local tax rolls.

In addition to generating power, the private enterprise project planned by Duke would provide water supply, recreation facilities, and flood control. The federal projects would not.

Question: Does the federal government really want private enterprise to provide the jobs that solve economic problems? If it does, it might be well to pass the word to those who are inclined to spending tax funds as the cure for every social or economic ill.

Great Society Is Very Expensive

For those who like it, the Great Society may be worth every penny it is costing. For those who oppose it, any price is too high. The trouble is that both sides of the argument usually have no idea just what the tab will come to. The facts are interesting, no matter how you look at it.

This year's administrative budget - and this is considerably smaller than the sum total of the Treasury's total expenditures - was announced at about $100 billion by President Johnson. However, the best estimates as of now are that by the end of the fiscal year, on July 1, 1966, the Administration will have gone at least $10 billion over what was budgeted. This will give the Treasury one of the biggest percentage deficits in history.

Only part of this can be dumped in the Great Society's lap. After all, close to $50 billion, and other programs begun by previous Administrations.

Great Society programs, for which the American taxpayers will be paying in the next five years, add up to some $111 billion in new authorizations, or that $1 billion will go to the Appalachia relief projects, $7 billion for a Federal aid-to-education program, and a conservatively estimated $5 billion for the poverty war. A $20 billion measure for various Federal subsidies, sits on President Johnson's desk, awaiting his signature. The International Monetary Fund is scheduled to get $1 billion, and Social Security will cost the Treasury $33 billion more than it did before this year.

This is one reason why the Administration is talking of increasing taxes. The Great Society may be great - but it's expensive, and to all of us.

Elba Country Club Setting For Dorsey-Hewes Wedding

The marriage of Miss Henriette Dorsey and Mr. Charles Price Hewes was solemnized Tuesday, December 28, at four in the afternoon at the Elba Country Club.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Augustus Dorsey, of Elba, and the groom's parents are Judge and Mrs. William G. Hewes, of Gulfport, Mississippi.

Father Patrick Maher officiated. The program of nuptial music was given by Mrs. Kimmie Ham, organist, and Mrs. Jimmy Kirkland, vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an Empire bridal gown of candlelight pea de sole and Alencon lace, fastened with Alencon lace bodice featuring a lacy scoop neckline and a demure ruffle below its corded waistline. The A-line skirt was accented with scalloped bands of the Alencon lace at the hemline, and the full detachable train was highlighted with gossamer of matching lace featuring tiny corded bows of pea de sole. Her tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a double coronet of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a single string of pearls, gift from the groom.

She carried a cascade of orchids and gardenias. The bride's honor attendant was her sister, Mrs. Frank Pridgen, Jr., of Atlanta. Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Marilyn Dyess, of Huntsville, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Paul King and Miss Yvonne Bryan, of Elba; Miss Ginny Klinkle, of Denver, Colorado; and Miss Mary Spence Meighan, of Gadsden. They wore Empire dresses of pink velvet accented with a band of red satin and featured long fitted sleeves. They carried white fur muffs and wore matching white fur headpieces.

The groom was attended by his father as best man. Groomsmen-ushers were: Andy Hewes, of Gulfport, Mississippi; and William G. Hewes, Jr., of Jennings, Louisiana, brothers of the groom; Okel Castleberry, of St. Louis, Missouri; Ed Blakelee, of Laurel, Mississippi; and Guy M. Parker, Jr., of Jackson, Mississippi.

The altar decorations included a solid background of magnolia leaves with a topiary tree of red carnations placed in the center, flanked on either side by branched candelabras and standard arrangements of red carnations.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the club's dining room. Mrs. Sam Sawyer, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Kimmy Ham poured coffee from a silver punch bowl, placed on one end of the refreshment table. Mrs. Charles Price Hewes

In-law of the groom, served at the bride's table. Miss Lynn Meighan, Miss Lynn Grimes, of Enterprise, and Mrs. Kimmy Ham served at the punch table. Serving at the groom's table were: Mrs. Ann Lee, Debbie and Judy Lee, cousins of the bride; Miss Sandra Farris, of Elba and Pensacola, registered guests.

When the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip to Florida, the bride's travel costume was a royal blue and emerald green tweed suit with blue chiffon blouse and matching blue accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewes are residing at 3222 Cedar Plaza Lane, Apt. 130, Dallas, Texas.

Bridal Shower Compliments
Miss Dorsey

Miss Henriette Dorsey was honored with a bridal shower Monday afternoon, December 27, at the home of Mrs. E. M. Warr. Entertaining with Mrs. Warr were: Miss Yvonne Bryan, Mrs. Kimmy Ham, Mrs. Paul King, Mrs. Pauline Allen, Mrs. Wayland Bryan, Mrs. R. A. Sewell, and Mrs. Sam Collier.

Guests at the door presented them to the receiving line, composed of the bride's mother, Mrs. Henry Dorsey; the groom's mother, Mrs. Frank Pridgen, of Atlanta; and Miss Jenny Klinkle, of Denver, Colorado. Miss Glenda Williams and Douglas McArthur Williams were united in marriage December 18 at 6 p.m. in the Elba Church of Christ. Minister Raymond Elliott officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Grady T. Williams, of Elba, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley B. Williams, of McMinville, Tennessee.

Wedding music was presented by a chorus from Alabama Christian College, Montgomery. They sang, "Tell Me Why," "Believe Me," "Bless This House," "Whither Thou Goest," "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," and "Bless Be The Tie."

Church decorations included an arched candelabra holding lavender candles and entwined with greenery and small flowers. In front of the arch was a large white Bible bordered with gold, placed on a stand. Branches of candelabra with lavender candles flanked the arch on either side.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white pea de sole and Chantilly lace, fashioned with a scalloped neckline that came to a point in the back. A chapel length train extended from a large bow at the pointed neckline in the back. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of silk and pearls and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, feathered carnations, and valley lilies.

Miss Cleo Roberts attended the bride as maid of honor. Her full length dress of lavender brocade satin was designed on Empire lines. She wore a veiled headpiece and carried a small white Bible adorned with a lavender carnation.

Bridesmaids were: Miss Betty Roberts, Miss Linda Williams, sister of the groom, of McMinville, Tennessee; Mrs. Wayland Henderson, and Miss Linda Bryant, of Opp. They wore short length dresses of lavender brocade satin and carried bouquets identical to that of the maid of honor.

The brides carried white Bibles. The bride's attendants were Kim Williams, of Union Springs, niece of the bride.

For her going away attire, the bride wore a suit of pink and gray plaid with a white scarf.

Donald Williams, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were: James E. Gary, Billy Hilyer, Charles Williams, and Tommy Gaither, Junior.

Groomsmen were: Steve Williams, the groom's nephew, and the bride's mother wore a turquoise dress of crepe with a lace bodice and the groom's mother wore a blue gown.

The bride's parents entertained at a reception at the Recreation Center following the wedding. A white stretch limousine covered the bride's table, which was centered with a tiered embossed wedding cake.

Serving were: Mrs. Jimmy Smith, Mrs. Hoyt Williams, Mrs. Harvel Fuller, and Mrs. Hershel Williams.

The brides carried white Bibles. The bride's attendants were Kim Williams, of Union Springs, niece of the bride.

For her going away attire, the bride wore a suit of pink and gray plaid with a white scarf.

Donald Williams, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were: James E. Gary, Billy Hilyer, Charles Williams, and Tommy Gaither, Junior.

Groomsmen were: Steve Williams, the groom's nephew, and the bride's mother wore a turquoise dress of crepe with a lace bodice and the groom's mother wore a blue gown.

The bride's parents entertained at a reception at the Recreation Center following the wedding. A white stretch limousine covered the bride's table, which was centered with a tiered embossed wedding cake.

Serving were: Mrs. Jimmy Smith, Mrs. Hoyt Williams, Mrs. Harvel Fuller, and Mrs. Hershel Williams.

Miss Glenda Williams and Douglas McArthur Williams were united in marriage December 18 at 6 p.m. in the Elba Church of Christ. Minister Raymond Elliott officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Grady T. Williams, of Elba, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley B. Williams, of McMinville, Tennessee.

Wedding music was presented by a chorus from Alabama Christian College, Montgomery. They sang, "Tell Me Why," "Believe Me," "Bless This House," "Whither Thou Goest," "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," and "Bless Be The Tie."

Church decorations included an arched candelabra holding lavender candles and entwined with greenery and small flowers. In front of the arch was a large white Bible bordered with gold, placed on a stand. Branches of candelabra with lavender candles flanked the arch on either side.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white pea de sole and Chantilly lace, fashioned with a scalloped neckline that came to a point in the back. A chapel length train extended from a large bow at the pointed neckline in the back. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of silk and pearls and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, feathered carnations, and valley lilies.

4-H PARENTS
I would like to remind all the parents of Coffee County 4-H Club members (boys) to talk over project work with their son or daughter before the January series of 4-H Club meetings. I plan to record each boys project or projects and then begin sending information and record sheets so that the boys can carry out their projects in 1966.

NITROGEN
Research work shows that Nitrogen recommendations for corn need to be increased slightly in 1966. We will be recommending a minimum of 100 lbs. of arial Nitrogen per acre. A profitable response from these rates of N can be expected if recommended hybrids are used, a plant population of 12,000 to 16,000 plants per acre is obtained and all other recommended production practices are followed. To obtain a 12,000-16,000 population, space plants 9 to 12 inches apart in 38 to 42 inch rows.

PLAN OF WORK
With the help of approximately 60 Coffee County

ducers get their herds and calves through the winter at a low cost doesn't necessarily mean that this is the most profitable. One big factor limiting income is poor percentage calf crop. A little extra feed in January, February, and March will often times mean the difference in profit and loss.

JANUARY ORCHARD JOBS
Pruning is an essential practice in successful production of fruits. This job can be done at any time made and stored. During the dormant season while there are no leaves on the trees or vines, in pruning young trees and vines the important point is to develop a strong, well shaped plant with the main branches well spaced around and along the trunk. As soon as the pruning
